Dr. Mehrmann Has
Paid the Penalty
Exacted By His Friend
Dr. Sullivan.

Coroner Mehrmann Prepares to Make the Awful Sacrifice.
Dr. Mehrmann thought that Sullivan might as well stand trial, so he took the bet. In the last round, however, Sullivan's man happened to get in one of those chance blows which so often change the result of a fight, and Mehrmann's man was slowly counted out.

Police Court Bailiff Sam Mitchell Enters the Whiskers Judgment.

Though Dr. Mehrmann did the thing handsome, Sullivan refused to be satisfied. "I want my beard," he said. "Every time he met the doctor, he would greet him with a 'Well, doctor, how is my beard?' and turning to a friend would explain that Dr. Mehrmann was making a fool of himself. 'Those whiskers are mine,' he would say, 'aren't they beautiful?'"

Dr. Sullivan, who is both members of the Bohemian Club and good friends, met at a boxing contest given by the club. When the contest opened, Sullivan leaned over and asked the doctor which man would win.

"Oh, the one nearest me," was the careless reply. "All right, I'll take the other man," said Sullivan.

The contest was to be a ten-round affair and at the end of the ninth Sullivan's man was up but done for. Dr. Sullivan, however, is a man who does not like to be bluff, so he again asked Mehrmann which man he thought would win.

"My man's got him," replied the doctor. "Fifteen cents against that beard says he hasn't," said Sullivan.

One of the Blacks Slain in a Fight at the El Paso Jail.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 17.—At 5 o'clock this morning a mob of negro soldiers from Port Bliss attacked the city police station with the object of releasing two of their comrades who had been arrested yesterday. During the fight Police Officer Newt Stewart, and one negro soldier were killed and it is believed that another of the soldiers is wounded.

Veteran police officers looked on as a corporal from the fort for behavior drunk and threatening to chase the police force out of the city, and last night another drunken soldier was arrested. A rescue party, armed with tear-gas, was organized and just before daylight a descent was made on the city.

A few minutes before 5 o'clock two of the soldiers, who entered the police station and demanded of Officer Stewart, the only man on duty, the surrender of their comrades.

A DEADLY FUSILLADE.
Stewart ordered the men out of the station, and they opened fire on him. Officer Richard Blacker, who sleeps in a room adjacent to the station, was hit by the shots, sprang out of bed, grabbed his pistol and started into the office. As soon as he appeared in the doorway one of the soldiers opened fire on him.

Blacker dropped to his knees, and at his first shot one of the negroes staggered and fell. Blacker then closed his eyes in a faint. About twenty shots in all were fired. Stewart was shot twice through the lungs, and died at 7 o'clock.

DEAD NEGRO FOUND.
A trail of blood leading from the station was followed and led to a body away from the body of a negro, shot through the breast, was found. The dead negro clutched his gun in his hands. Another trail of blood was also found, which indicated that another of the negroes was wounded.

Officers Zacker and Scott pursued the fleeing soldiers but were unable to make any arrests.

The company stationed at Port Bliss is Company B, Twenty-fifth Infantry. Posses are out looking for the marauders, though at the post it is claimed that the only missing soldiers are the dead man and the two prisoners in the police station.

POLICE ARMED WITH RIFLES.
The police have learned from the two prisoners the name of one of the soldiers who did the shooting in the station office and Sheriff Boone and Chief of Police Richard have been ordered to search for the man from the commandant of the post. The latter has given assurance that he will do his best to locate the man in bringing the guilty man to justice, and it is believed that there will be no further clash. The entire police force, however, has been alerted and armed with Winchester to be in readiness for any emergency. Feeling here against the negroes is very bitter, and many citizens have offered their services to the civil authorities.

There were seventy-two accredited delegates—six from each of the twelve counties in the San Joaquin valley. Besides the regular delegates, every train since yesterday afternoon has been bringing in prominent men from each of the twelve counties.

The great majority of the delegates arrived from the valley, and the meeting was held at the railway station by members of the two local organizations—the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association.

The convention was called to order by President E. A. Buell of this city. The principal business up for consideration was the president's report and the report of the advertising and public relations committee.

MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES.

Water Rates Discussed By the Berkeley Fathers.

BERKELEY, February 17.—The Berkeley Water Trustees met last evening as a committee of the whole to discuss the water rates. W. H. Marston, in the chair, presented the report of the committee on the water rates. The following communication was read from the Contra Costa Water Company: "The Contra Costa Water Company, in its report to the Trustees, states that it is the intention of the company to increase the water rates to $1.00 per month, and to provide an adequate and reliable supply, not only for present, but for the future requirements of an increasing population. The Trustees, in their report, state that they are in favor of the proposed increase, and that they will support the company in its efforts to provide a reliable supply of water." The Trustees then discussed the proposed increase, and decided to refer the matter to a committee of the whole to be held next week.

The Trustees then discussed the proposed increase, and decided to refer the matter to a committee of the whole to be held next week.

It is erroneously supposed by those not conversant with the water supply of this city, that the water supply is abundant, and that the water is cheap. In fact, the water supply is very limited, and the water is very expensive.

We would therefore respectfully request that the Trustees, in their report, state that they are in favor of the proposed increase, and that they will support the company in its efforts to provide a reliable supply of water.

This suggestion is not made to oppress water rate payers, but a slight increase of charges for water, which is a necessary and valuable commodity, would be a fair and reasonable thing to do.

ALAMEDA WATER COMPANY. By C. F. Crow, Secretary Contra Costa Water Company, per J. H. Wadsworth, President.

Chairman Marston expressed the opinion that the estimated cost of $250,000 was too high and included many items which had long ago ceased to be available.

Trustee Frank stated that while the statement of the original cost of the plant was undoubtedly correct, he considered that the plant could be built for about one-half of the estimated cost, and that the rate of interest should be estimated on that amount. The discussion continued for several hours without any decision having been reached.

The matter will be further discussed at a committee meeting of the Board, at which time the rates will be determined.

MARSTON FIRE COMPANY. The members of the recently organized Marston Hose Company will give their first entertainment and dance next Wednesday evening, February 22nd, at the Marston Hotel.

WILL RUN A SHOW. Deputy Town Marshal Brown has resigned his position and is going to run a show. Mr. Brown has proved himself a very successful trainer, and expects to get up a first rate show.

SIR A MONKEY. Walter Silva, of West Berkeley, while out hunting yesterday, shot a monkey which he saw in the branches of a tree and mistook for a cat. The monkey was not killed and Silva is giving it the best of care in hopes of its recovery. The animal is supposed to have escaped from the owner and is now being hunted.

FATHER MAC CORMY TO LECTURE. Rev. P. J. Mac Cormy the eloquent, popular and successful lecturer, will deliver his famous lecture, "The Story of the Church," at the Stockton Hotel, on Wednesday evening, February 22nd, at 8 o'clock. This lecture on the life of Christ, has crowded halls and churches in every country over, and is placed at the top of the list of lectures in the religious world.

A NOTED TURFMAN DEAD. A musical program of rare excellence under the direction of Miss Giorgini will be rendered before the lecture. G. F. Babcock of Alameda county has been elected to the position of prominent visit with friends in this city.

D. Allison has purchased a forty acre ranch near the city of Berkeley, and has moved his home to South Berkeley for his new possession. About the 1st of March, Mr. Barrows is visiting friends in Don Potos.

SAN LORENZO. SAN LORENZO, Feb. 17.—A San Francisco ship building firm recently purchased the locus trees on the Landing road. Locust wood is highly prized by shipbuilders for its toughness and durability. It is stated that the company is to pay $10 a cord for the timber.

Mrs. L. O. Shuman has returned from a visit to relatives in San Francisco.

ALVARADO, Feb. 17.—Wm. Lee of San Francisco Sunday with his mother at this place.

Mrs. S. Bidinger of this place is in San Francisco as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. L. Trempner.

Dr. Emerson of Contra Costa passed through town Monday.

After a two months' leave of absence, Misses Richmond and Chase, Olsen returned to Santa Maria Sunday to be employed in the sugar refinery of that place.

Mrs. Katie Ralph is in Santa Maria visiting with her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Atkinson.

Miss A. Allgier spent Tuesday of this week in the metropolis.

Mrs. Chas. Aile is on the sick list this week.

ALLENDALE. ALLENDALE, Feb. 17.—The Allen- dale Improvement Club is now interesting itself in the matter of planting trees throughout the tract. The club has already planted a few trees along the highway, and expects to plant many more.

Situated as Allendale is, some distance back of the bay where there is little the planting of shade trees along the streets will add much to the comfort and beauty of the place.

A New Pile Cure Which Cures the Most Aggravated Case Safely and Quickly. The Pyramid Pile Cure, a new preparation put up in suppository form, cures the most aggravated case of piles in a surprisingly short time.

Mr. W. N. Dunn, 5110 Shields avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I had an inoperable hemorrhoid since the Pyramid Pile Cure for the speedy relief and permanent cure of a most severe case of piles. I was troubled for months and was completely cured with one box of the Pyramid Pile Cure. I have more than that I still have three of the Pyramid Pile Cure left of that one box that I did not need to use. It is the greatest thing I have ever used and I can heartily recommend it to all sufferers, and you are at perfect liberty to refer any persons to me and I will gladly answer any correspondence."

"Thousands have resorted to expensive and dangerous surgical operations for cure of piles who could have been cured safely and painlessly by the Pyramid Pile Cure. In a number of instances, persons who had spent months in a hospital under treatment of pile specialists without permanent relief finally found the cure where they least expected it, in the Pyramid Pile Cure, which is applied at night, relieves the congested parts, reduces the tumors gradually and naturally, removes the intolerable itching, and leaves no bad after effects, as it contains no cocaine nor opiates."

It is a remedy no one need fear to apply to the most aggravated case. Druggists sell the Pyramid Pile Cure at 50 cents for full sized treatment. The Pyramid Co. of Marshall, Mich., will be pleased to mail free to any address a little book on Cause and Cure of piles.

PHILAN'S ASPIRATIONS.

TALK ABOUT NEXT SENATOR.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Unaccounted joy reigns among the erstwhile bosses of the metropolis to-day, for the war that is waged among the reformers makes a return to the old conditions certain. The present disaffection can be kept stirred up by no means confined to the Democracy and Mayor Phelan, for over on the Republican side of the fence there is a twining of political currents that do not bode any too well for the first-born of that organization known as the "Grand High League."

With the Democrats, however, the turmoil has developed into a veritable storm. Phelan's attack upon Bigsby has created a factional breach right in the element that has been massing behind him solidly in every campaign, and the wounds are not likely to heal as shown by the way the leaders of each side are clanking at one another with dangers drawn. If the municipal election were to be held over again at any time within three months from now, Phelan's defeat would be as sure a thing as his success was last November, for in addition to the schism in the Democratic ranks he has estranged from himself the thousands of Republicans and Independents who in the past have been mainly instrumental in bringing about his victory.

It is of course well known that Phelan never was any too popular with the old-time Democracy here, and although the ex-Governor Budd, Dick White and so on have been at his back of late, it was only so as to avoid a total disintegration of the Democratic party and not for any love they bore him. Whenever the right time comes it is a sure thing that all these forces will strike as a unit to knock him from the pedestal upon which he has climbed, practically at their expense. Although here and there he has thrown a political spear in an attempt to appease the elements he has thus extended any of his substantial favors in such a direction, so the best way to describe the situation between them all is that it is an armed peace out of which a storm is at any moment the noise and jungle of war.

The treatment accorded Bigsby is going to be another strong link in Phelan's undoing, for the ex-Senator has a big following of friends and furthermore gets sympathy from all sides on the score of being harshly treated. A popular vote for Mayor is between Phelan and Bigsby would probably result at the present time in a victory for the latter, though whether or not this secret wish will be carried out another election comes around is doubtful. For the public is proverbially tickle and touch. There is not much likelihood, though, that Bigsby will get a popular vote to clash with Phelan, for Dodge is next in line for succession to the Mayorship, and he has been extremely politic in his attitude toward the ex-Senator. It will be noticed that, no matter what happened, no expression of opinion was ever voiced by the press, and thus keeping himself free from the entanglements of either camp he will be the man upon whom all factions can write later on when they are looking for a local leader.

Where Phelan's great strength lies, and the possibilities for his political future are contained in the contrary hand he is able to reach out over the party organization. Locally, it is practically all under his influence, that is, the local supremacy over the last municipal convention secured for him the appointment of committees subservient to his will, and the next time a similar move is due it will of course be called in his interests.

As to what he will be able to do throughout the State, though, is where the political anxiety comes in, for those who are opposing him fear that he will use his manifold influences in such a way as to secure control of the State, and strong evidence of his capabilities in that regard was given during the recent extra session of the Legislature, for although the senatorial honors of the minority were undoubtedly due to Steve White, Phelan succeeded in wresting them from him by securing the complimentary vote. There were many influences that aided him in this result, not the least of which was that the Examiner had espoused his cause and furthermore had an axe or two left to grind as regards the majority. It will be remembered, was elected to office in the face of violent opposition from the "monarch" of the daily press, and then again Phelan managed some strings to his bow in the form of patronage, and anything in that line is singularly effective in California in any year, the workings of the State's machinery were shown in the way the San Francisco delegation was attracted to him—a characteristic of the State's machinery, which shows what a vast amount of power is placed in the hands of the man who secures the majority of San Francisco.

That Phelan intends to reach out in the corollary this fall is certain, for there are already indications in sight of work being done in his interests with the object of securing control of the State machine. Of course, had the extra session of the Legislature failed to evolve a United States Senator, his efforts would have been under double pressure, but now there is nothing more to be gained this year in the political supremacy, neither Governor nor Senator will be under consideration for two years. It is none too early, though, to lay the lines in both directions, for as regards the federal office, whoever succeeds in obtaining double finance in State politics this fall will have the handling of the preliminaries two years from now, and as for the senatorship, those elected to the State Senate this year will perforce be still occupying their seats two years later when the roll is called for a successor to George C. Perkins.

HOW REPUBLICANS FIGURE.
However, this is all the Democratic end of it, and from a Republican standpoint all the work that may be done by Phelan and his allies in connection with State affairs will go for naught. There does not seem a shadow of a doubt that the Republicans will carry the State this fall, and as for two years from now, there is no more reason why the political conditions should not continue than that they should be in existence at the present time.

Politics, however, do not admit of taking any chances, so early as it is, a movement is already on foot to get the State in shape for the approaching campaign upon lines somewhat dissimilar to those of the past. A pseudo-organization has been formed of the element that predominated in the last Legislature, and it is the intention to act as a unit in bringing about a new order of things. Senators Gillette in the far north, Flint on the coast, Smith in the interior and Bull in the south are the prime movers in the matter, and if their plans go through they will have a good deal to say about the way party affairs are handled this fall. Nothing ultra radical in the line of reform is to be attempted, but instead an effort will be made to secure a remodeling of party affairs on conservative and practical bases. There will be no "anti-boss" fight or "holiness" to be entered into before being qualified to become a politician, for those engaged in the new maneuvers realize that although temporary success can be obtained in that way it cannot serve more than one political storm.

The proposition to place Senator Tom Flint at the head of the next State Central Committee is gaining ground fast, for in addition to his executive ability and qualifications for such a place, the fact that he is a Native Son, a high-up Mason and prominent figure in the number of other fraternal organizations would count for a good deal in the handling of a popular vote. Senator Flint is undoubtedly right in line now for the gubernatorial prize, for his position as the leader of the Bay forces is clearly defined, and he will be naturally backed by every resource pertaining to that element.

Bosses Across Gossip For the Bay Politicians.

Are Pleased to See Trouble.

THE NEXT SENATORSHIP.

As to how the lines will be cast for the next senatorship, although it may be thought that it is a little too early to discuss that matter as yet, it is well to note that the fact that the people are already at work. The fact that the senatorship has just gone south is an undoubted factor in their interests, though it may not prove as absolute as they think, for the old argument used by the people of the north to the effect that the senatorship is not a matter bound by local restrictions can now be taken up by the residents of the south. Those who think, therefore, that Governor Gage is no longer even a possibility for the place had better not go too far in their hopes, for it is a wonderful thing, after all, if the senatorship should go south again two years from now and the governorship come north.

Editor De Young of the Chronicle does not figure the situation that way, however, for by his men, and although some people are inclined to doubt his word every time it is mentioned in connection with the senatorship, his prospects are by no means that gloomy. In the first place, he is singularly friendly with the Bay forces, and if those pleasant relations are retained he would, therefore, be into the fight two years from now without the antagonism of that element, if not indeed, with its support. Then again it must not be forgotten that he is the proprietor of the leading Republican newspaper in the West, and that by making a splendid fight for the party, as he will, he will only do himself good, and the gratitude of all his readers will be associated with his success. As a third factor it must be conceded that the personal antagonism to him is gradually dying out, while another source that will add to his strength will be that many members of the Legislature two years hence will not only be new to the post, but extended their candidacies by his paper. Lastly, he is on the eve of going to Paris as one of the national representatives at the big fair, in which position he is sure to add to his prestige, so taken all in all, it can be seen that those who say that Young hasn't a ghost of a chance for the senatorship don't know what they are talking about.

Col. Burns' plans are still unknown, and since the adjournment of the extra session he has been taking the rest made necessary by the long strain to which he was subjected, for the people have an idea of the pressure under which the Colonel was running between the adjournment of the regular session and the gathering of the Legislature, and the fact that he must be a man of wonderful physique to be able to withstand it as he did. Before the day would be well started politicians, and would not only be in the city, but gathered at his offices in the Crocker building, the Palace Hotel courtyard, the Jockey Club rooms or other places where he would be likely to hold his court, and the throng would be thick until late at night, some being willing to wait all day just for the chance of speaking to him a minute.

So great did the demands upon his personal attention become that the Colonel had to almost hide himself each day and to most those who wanted to see him, where the others would least expect to find him. A complete chain of communication was kept up throughout the State, and reports were constantly received of work in progress, and as the Colonel attended to every little detail of his fight, it can be seen what a tremendous demand was made upon his energy. After all this hard work, too, to lose the prize through the treachery of a single ally would be a disaster indeed, and have overcome most men, especially one came with such crushing force in an unexpected manner. Of course, it affected the Colonel's mind, and he was ever covered from it now, and no one would ever dream from his appearance that he had just been subjected to such a trying ordeal.

THE STATE SENATE.

By the way, before matters Senatorial are dismissed, it may be interesting to run over the names of the Senators whose terms expire this year, inasmuch as some are going to seek the office of Governor, as to participate in the selection of a successor to Perkins. They are: Royce of Santa Barbara; Braunhaert, Fresno; Hall and Wolfe of San Francisco; Bull of Los Angeles; Chapman of El Dorado; Dickinson of Marin; Daly of Sacramento; Flint of San Juan; Gillette of Humboldt; Jones of Orange; Langford of San Joaquin; La Rue of Napa; Luchinsinger of Solano; Morehouse of Santa Clara; Peck of Yuba; Stratton of Alameda; and Trout of Santa Cruz.

Of these, Dwight Jones, Stratton and Peck will not seek re-election, and all of the others will, that is, unless certain other political propositions they are figuring on materialize. For example, in the case of Gillette, he wants to go to Congress in Barham's place, and if the arrangement is carried out that has been tacitly made in his district, he will get the nomination he desires; and if that is the case, he will come to the Senate and Barham will try to reach the United States Senate. Should, however, the latter be snooked out of this program, Gillette will beyond a doubt try to reach the State Senate again so as to keep the road open for his anticipated trip to Washington.

Senator Eddie Wolfe of San Francisco is another avowed Congressional aspirant, and will essay to get from Lord the nomination that has been turning in that gentleman's way year in and year out for so long. Should Wolfe and his party blocked by the Congressmen, he will look back toward the State Senate again and make another bid for the nomination.

Senator Bull's plans have not yet crystallized sufficiently for his friends to know just what he proposes to do, but there is a strong probability that he will get the Congressional nomination instead of Waters. He has not abandoned his Senatorial aspirations altogether, but has simply postponed them, which, as he is a young man, he can well afford to do. It is, of course, a sure thing that if Senator Flint wants to go to Sacramento again from his district he can do so, and it is that very fact that is making him think twice about wanting the chairmanship of the State Central Committee. In the Senate he is an established figure as President pro tem, and can undoubtedly hold that honor indefinitely, whereas there is also to be considered that his district is naturally Democratic, and that he does not make the run personally it might swing back into its old channel. The proposition is certainly one calling for a good deal of consideration before acting upon it, but Flint's friends are pointing out to him that he has reached the end of his tether as far as the Senate is concerned, whereas the chairmanship opens up all sorts of possibilities. Dickinson will be a candidate to succeed himself in the Senate, but it is feared that strong opposition will come to him

A GREAT CHANCE FOR INVESTORS.

An investment that promises a handsome return to the stockholders is that offered by the Casimira Ranch, Co. and Development Company, whose works are located near Santa Maria, in Santa Barbara county. The region in which the company is now carrying on development work is in the very heart of the great oil belt that underlies Santa Barbara county. The company has secured oil rights on 10,000 acres of the Casimira, Laruna and Guadalupe ranches, and 600 acres from Mosses, Casimira & Tyler. There is no question of the land's ownership, as it is all United States patent. Asphaltum, oil, seepage and natural gas are found on all this property, and there is every surface indication that oil in large quantities can be found here by intelligent prospecting.

The main line of the Southern Pacific between the property and Los Angeles, upon which 2,000 men are now at work, passes through the middle of the Casimira Company's tract, with three stations and one long side track. The Pacific Coast narrow gauge, connecting at Port Stanford with the Coast line of steamers, passes within a mile of the Casimira Company's line. At Point San Jose, only three and one-half miles from the Casimira ranch, is a landing to which a pipe line could be laid at a nominal cost. There is a 30-foot fall between the ranch and landing.

The Union Sugar Refinery is only one mile from this land, with spur tracks from the railroad lines to it. The Sacramento Sugar Refinery at Salinas and other large factories situated along the line of the Southern Pacific will furnish a ready market for the oil the company expects to develop.

The officers and directors of the Casimira Development Company are: Mr. E. Curley, Emil Woenne, W. R. Jones, M. F. Gale, W. H. Chapman and J. H. Conway. All of these gentlemen are putting in their own time and money for the benefit of the company without any charge therefor, as they have abundant confidence that the ultimate results will pay them well. In order to carry on operations on a large scale, a limited number of shares of the treasury stock, upon which no assessments will be levied, are being placed on the market. For full information apply at the company's office, 404 Call building, Third and Market streets, San Francisco.

HIGH BILL BOARDS ARE NOW DOOMED.

A dispatch from San Jose says: "In the Superior Court here today a decision was rendered sustaining the city ordinance against the erection of high bill boards. The height is limited to ten feet, and an action was begun by a firm of bill posters of San Francisco to enjoin the Common Council from taking down a number of boards that are eighteen feet high, and also to enjoin the city from preventing a number of similar high boards from being erected. The decision against the bill posters was rendered in a decision on a demurrer but went to the merits of the case. A large number of very high bill boards will now have to come down."

CONTEST FOR POSITION OF JUNIOR MAJOR.

Oakland and Alameda Mr. Foster Resigns as in Race For the Place.

Poulter and Simpson Are Trying to Secure the Position.

Next Wednesday evening there will be an election at the headquarters of Gen. Warfield, California Hotel San Francisco to determine who is to act as Junior Major of the Fifth Regiment of Infantry, National Guard of California.

The vacancy in the place has been occasioned by the promotion to the position of Lieutenant-Colonel of Major John Haynes of Oakland, which took place some time ago.

Those eligible to vote are the field and line officers of the regiment. Thus far there are only two applicants for the position, Captain Poulter of A Company of this city, and Captain Simpson of C Company of Alameda.

Captain Poulter is one of the best known officers of the regiment. He is popular with both men and officers and has been connected with the National Guard for about a dozen years, about six of which he has passed in command of Company A.

Considerable rivalry has been displayed on the part of the officers who aspire to the position in question though it has been devoid of acrimony. Captain Poulter's friends here are hopeful that he will secure the place.

In the event of Captain Poulter's election the vacancy caused in the commandancy would have to be filled by an election on the part of the company. Lieutenant Simpson, of the organization, is an aspirant for the next higher position.

REFUSES TO LEAVE HOME AND MAY GO TO JAIL.

Mrs. Corine Hanson of North Oakland has been cited to appear in court to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt on account of disobeying the order of the court. A short time ago the Union Savings Bank foreclosed on Mrs. Hanson's property and she was evicted. A few weeks ago Mrs. Hanson returned to her home and has since refused to abandon it.

APPOINTMENT CORPS TO HONOR WASHINGTON.

The reception will be held in Loring Hall February 22d from 8 to 11 o'clock P. M.

A short musical program will be rendered. Light refreshments will be served and a pleasant social time will be enjoyed. All Veterans of the Civil War are cordially invited to be present.

Company A, Veterans Reserves, has been invited. This company proposes also to celebrate the day by a short parade before 8 o'clock in the evening, and asks all officers to display their flags and to patriotically decorate their homes on that day.

Workman Receives Injuries That Will Probably Prove Fatal.

TALE OF A MEAN MULE IN SORE DISTRESS.

Made a Desperate Attempt to Take His Life.

Richard Hughes, an employe at the Emeryville race track, is suffering from the effects of a serious accident which may have fatal results. Hughes was passing behind one of the high-bred race horses with a pitchfork in his hand when the animal kicked at him, striking the pitchfork and driving the handle of it into Hughes' side with such force as to cause serious internal injuries.

He was taken to a hospital in San Francisco where an operation was performed in the hope of saving his life. The injured man's condition is, however, considered very precarious.

The removal will be made by the company's property to a local contractor. He says he got tired of contracting the uneven surface of that street with the level paved surface of Clay street.

The scene of the story is laid in foreign climes, Mandia, China, both of which countries since the war with Siam have become the theatre of "American" wars and they ever were before, having been selected and utilized to great purpose. Mr. Gunther has all the faculties of a successful novelist. He is a graceful, forceful, pungent writer as occasion requires. He is a keen observer of human nature and an excellent weaver of plots in which there is a warp and woof of amusing and thrilling incident. The story is put in autobiographic form, which enables the author, at times, to become extremely graphic and effective. The managing clerk in the English commercial
